

CULINARY MANAGEMENT, ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) Culinary Management program offers chef training (basic and advanced) as well as restaurant management skills. After studying the fundamentals of classical and contemporary cuisine and restaurant procedures, students will develop advanced skills in garde manger and a la carte cooking. Students will have the opportunity to choose between a local or distant externship during their final term in the program. The graduate will have the necessary training to work in a variety of culinary positions such as sous chef, garde manger, kitchen supervisor, and restaurant manager.

Oregon Coast Culinary Institute (OCCI) at Southwestern was granted accreditation by the American Culinary Federation (ACF (<https://www.acfchefs.org>)). This accreditation is the highest level available for initial accreditation by the ACF – the premier professional chefs' organization in North America – focusing its efforts on offering education, apprenticeship and industry certification. With the ACF accreditation, OCCI's graduates can apply for the title of certified culinarian upon graduation, along with their associate's degrees. This degree utilizes the same curriculum as the Culinary Arts degree, except that during the final terms the Culinary Management student will take up to an additional 27 academic credits. This will allow the student to transfer into the Bachelor of Applied Science in Hospitality and Tourism at Southern Oregon University. With this degree the student will transfer to Southern Oregon University with junior standing for registration purposes. Those interested in transferring into SOU's Hospitality & Tourism degree program should meet with University Center (<https://www.socc.edu/uc>) staff to plan the additional credits needed.
