

CULINARY & BAKING

Southwestern Oregon Community College is very fortunate to be the home of the renowned Oregon Coast Culinary Institute (<https://www.occi.net>) (OCCI). A variety of certificates and degrees are offered, including two management degrees which articulate into Southern Oregon University's hospitality and tourism program. In addition, OCCI students have opportunities to hone their skills outside the classroom through culinary competitions. Students and faculty compete throughout the year, having won many awards regionally, nationally, and internationally.
